

DOUBLE YOUR CERTIFICATION POWER WITH FAIRTRADE AND 1% FOR THE PLANET

CERTIFY YOUR SUPPLY CHAIN TO FIGHT CLIMATE CHANGE!

Fairtrade's smallholder farmers and rural communities have contributed the least to climate change and are often affected the most. For Fairtrade producers, climate change is not a computer model or political controversy – it's every-day life. Climate change leads to food insecurity and income losses because of decreasing yields due to soil erosion, pests, diseases and changing weather patterns. Help Fairtrade support farmer organizations, like KNCU, for community-led climate solutions. Check out KNCU's story here.
